Ultimate Group

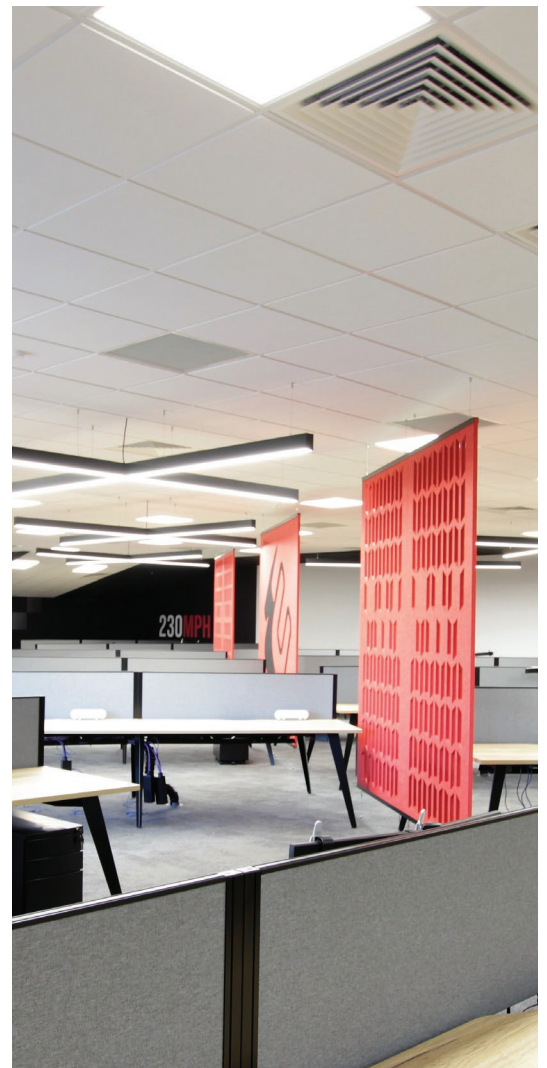

Codemasters have been producing top-quality video games for over 30 years, from cult classic Micro Machines back in 1991, to more recent massive releases such as F1 2020.

Ultimate Group were charged with delivering a 16,500 sq ft office fit-out and furniture project for this BAFTA award-winning client, and sought the help of Creatif to deliver a space division solution within a large open plan work zone.

Several suspended screens were supplied and installed. Made from our eco-friendly Whisper material, the panels display a variety of cut-out patterns and the iconic Codemasters logo which sits proudly in the centre of the space.

The red panels - chosen to match Codemaster's striking brand colour - don't just look great. They help to absorb unwanted sound within the busy space thanks to their acoustic properties and act as non-permanent space division solution.
