

Creatif Ingram Micro

Ever heard of Ingram Micro? They're the largest wholesale technology products distributor, providing hardware for businesses from such brands as Microsoft, Apple, Samsung, Acer and many more. Its no surprise the company ranked 62nd in the 2015 Fortune 500!

Although the business is headquartered in California, Ingram Micro has a substantial presence in the UK. Their Milton Keynes based offices were recently updated, and this forward-thinking company wanted to introduce flexible space and light transfer into the design.

Creatif's glass operable wall, Insight Domino, effectively addressed the issue of light transfer within the space, while Solo – Creatif's market leading acoustic moving walls - provided not only space flexibility, but also acted as a bright, clean canvas within the office's main meeting room to which bespoke graphics were added, creating a stunning focal point.

And, being Creatif products, both systems provided impressive acoustic comfort.
