If there's one brand that needs no introduction, it's Fender.

The American company is synonymous with all things rock n' roll and has transformed music. We'd wager that there's not a single person who couldn't recall a song or riff played on a Fender guitar.

Unsurprisingly, Fender knows all about the need for great acoustics and when their fit out partner Action Workplace needed a moving wall, we received a call.

Our Solo wall was perfect for the job. The system's panels are filled with acoustic materials, help stop unwanted noise transfer between meeting rooms. And with the rocking graphics applied, they fit right in at Fender HQ!
