In November 2018, Yorkshire-based law firm Gordons relocated its Bradford office to a new Grade A space in the city centre.

Prior to the move, Gordons contracted workplace experts Dale Office Interiors to oversee a six-figure fit out of its new premises.

Dale incorporated Gordons' branding throughout the scheme, with many of the features drawing inspiration from Bradford's longstanding association with the textile industry.

For this project, Creatif supplied 33 doughnut-shaped ReSound ceiling rafts.

Fitted around exposed light fittings in strategic areas, these Class A acoustic absorbers help to soak up sound at source and guard against noise travelling to other areas of the open plan office.

The colour and finish of these custom acoustic rings was an obvious choice; a bright orange Camira fabric, in keeping with the design's theme.

Speaking about the completed works, Gordons' Head of Operations and Compliance, Victoria Davey, commented; "We are extremely proud of our heritage in Bradford. Our new office will help us grow our business further, attract Bradford's top talent and enhance our team's wellbeing."

With plenty of space for agile working and the clever use of Creatif's acoustic products, we're sure that Gordons' redesigned Bradford office will undoubtedly be a hit with the law firm's staff.
